

It was very rewarding for my personal and professional growth to learn different ways of teaching, to meet new people, to get to know different opinions and perspectives. Besides, it was very interesting to learn about the culture and different dynamics when working in class and in groups.

I also learned the relevance of a cross-cultural experience, it helped me broad my horizons and taught me to be aware of the many different cultures around the world.

For me to come from Costa Rica (a country that is quite far from Taiwan) to study in Taiwan, and get to know the culture was something unimaginable and I treasure my experience in Taiwan and at KNFUST very much.
